5. (1) The Board shall appoint a person employed by the Board as the Director of Occupational Health and Safety. 2004,c.42,s.5.

(2) The Board shall appoint occupational health and safety officers and such other workers as it considers necessary for the administration of this Act and the regulations.

6. (1) The Director shall

(a) cause workplaces to be inspected;

(b) enforce this Act and the regulations; and

(c) carry out other duties to further the purposes of this Act or as required by the Board.

(2) The Director may delegate to any person employed by the Board any of the powers or duties of the Director under this Act or the regulations. 2004,c.42,s.6.

7. (1) Subject to subsection (3), an officer may investigate and determine compliance by any person with this Act and the regulations and an order made thereunder and an officer may

(a) at any reasonable time enter and inspect a workplace, conduct tests and make such examinations as the officer considers necessary or advisable;

(b) require the production of records, drawings, specifications, books, plans or other documents in the possession of the employer that relate to the workplace or the occupational health and safety of workers or other persons at the workplace and remove them temporarily for the purpose of making copies;

(c) require the production of documents or records that may be relevant to the investigation of a complaint, and remove them temporarily for the purpose of making copies;

(d) take photographs or recordings of the workplace and activity taking place in the workplace;

(e) inspect, take samples and conduct tests of samples, including tests in which a sample is destroyed, of any item, device, material, equipment or machinery being produced, used or found at the workplace;

(f) in an inspection, examination, inquiry or a test, be accompanied and assisted by a person having special expertise or professional knowledge of any matter;

(i) require, in writing, an employer to produce any record or information, or to provide a report or an assessment, made or to be made by a person possessing such special expertise or professional knowledge or qualifications as are specified by the officer, of any biological, chemical or physical agents or combination of such agents used or intended to be used in a workplace.

(2) An officer is responsible for a sample taken under clause (1)(e), until

(a) the sample has been destroyed; or

(b) the sample is returned to the workplace being inspected.

(3) An officer may enter the part of a private residence being used as a workplace

(a) with the consent of the occupier; or

(4) A justice of the peace may, on the application of the Director, issue a warrant authorizing an officer to enter the part of a private residence being used as a workplace, if the justice of the peace is satisfied by information on oath that entry by the officer is necessary for any purpose relating to the administration and enforcement of this Act.

(5) Where an officer conducts an inspection of a workplace under subsection (1), the owner, constructor, contractor, employer, supervisor or the person in charge of the workplace shall designate a representative of management to accompany the officer and shall provide a committee member representing workers, or a representative, if any, with the opportunity to accompany the officer during the officer's inspection of a workplace, or any part of the workplace.

(6) Where there is no committee member representing workers or no representative, the officer shall consult during the inspection with a reasonable number of the workers at the workplace respecting matters of occupational health and safety at their workplace. 2004,c.42,s.7.

8. (1) Where an officer determines that a provision of this Act or the regulations is being contravened, the officer may issue an order, orally or in writing, to the owner, constructor, contractor, employer, supervisor or the person in charge of the workplace or to the person in contravention of this Act or the regulations, to comply with the provision and the officer may require that the order be carried out forthwith or within a time period specified by the officer.

(3) An order made under subsection (1) shall indicate the nature of the contravention and, where appropriate, the location of the contravention.

(4) Where an officer makes an order under subsection (1) and finds that the contravention determined under subsection (1) is a danger or hazard to the occupational health or safety of a worker, the officer may, in addition to an order made under subsection (1),

(a) order that the area, item, place, device, material, process, equipment or machinery shall not be used until the order made under subsection (1) is complied with;

(b) order that work stop at the workplace named in the order until the order is cancelled by an officer; or

(c) order that the workplace where the contravention exists be cleared of workers and isolated by barricades, fencing or any other means suitable to prevent access by a worker until the danger or hazard to the occupational health or safety of a worker is removed.

(5) Where an officer issues an order under subsection (1) or (4), the officer shall post at the workplace or affix to the item, device, material, equipment or machinery in the workplace a copy of the order.

(6) No person shall remove an order posted or affixed under subsection (5) unless authorized to do so by an officer.

(7) Where an officer makes an order in writing or issues a report of the inspection to an owner, constructor, contractor, employer, supervisor or a person in charge of the workplace, the officer shall

(a) forthwith cause a copy of the order to be posted in a conspicuous place at the workplace where it is most likely to come to the attention of the workers;

(b) provide a copy of the order or of the report to the representative, if any, and the committee, if any; and

(c) provide a copy of the order to the person who has complained of a contravention of this Act or the regulations. 2004,c.42,s.8.

9. (1) Where an order is made under clause 8(4)(c), no owner, constructor, contractor, employer, supervisor or person in charge of the workplace shall require or permit a worker to enter the isolated workplace, except for the purpose of doing work that is necessary or required to remove the danger or hazard, and only where the worker is protected from the danger or hazard.

(2) Where the Director believes on reasonable grounds that an order

LOGAN

(3) The Supreme Court may order that the contravention or anticipated contravention of an order made under subsection 8(4) be restrained on such terms and for such duration as the Supreme Court may consider just. 2004,c.42,s.9.

10. (1) Any owner, constructor, contractor, employer, supervisor or person in charge of the workplace or worker affected by an order made by an officer under this Act or the regulations may appeal the order to the Director, who shall hear and dispose of the appeal as promptly as practicable.

(2) An appeal to the Director may be made orally or in writing, but the Director may require the grounds for appeal be specified in writing before the appeal is heard.

(3) Where an appeal has been made to the Director under subsection (1), the Director may, at the request of the appellant, stay the order appealed from pending the disposition of the appeal.

(4) The appellant, the officer who made the order appealed from, and such other persons as the Director may specify, are parties to an appeal made under this section.

(5) On the conclusion of an appeal, the Director may

(a) affirm the order;

(b) rescind the order; or

(c) make a new order based on his or her findings.

(6) A decision of the Director made under this section may be appealed under section 11.

(7) Where an order is stayed under subsection (3), no steps may be taken under the order for its execution or enforcement. 2004,c.42,s.10.

11. (1) A person affected by a decision of the Director made under section 10 may give notice of appeal to the Board within 30 days of the date of the Director's decision.

(2) Where the Board receives a notice of appeal under subsection (1), it shall appoint an arbitrator to determine the matter.

(3) The arbitrator shall, as soon as is practicable, hold a hearing at which the appellant and the Director are entitled to make representations.

(4) An arbitrator appointed under subsection (2) has all the powers of a commissioner appointed under the Public Inquiries Act R.S.P.E.I. 1988,

- (b) rescind the order; or
- (c) make a new order based on his or her findings.

(6) The decision of the arbitrator is final and binding on the parties to the appeal and on the Board.

(7) Where a notice of appeal is filed under subsection (1), the Director may, at the request of the appellant, stay the order appealed from pending the disposition of the appeal.

(8) Where an order is stayed under subsection (7), no steps may be taken under the order for its execution or enforcement. 2004,c.42,s.11.

DUTIES OF EMPLOYERS, WORKERS AND OTHER PERSONS

12. (1) An employer shall ensure

- (a) that every reasonable precaution is taken to protect the occupational health and safety of persons at or near the workplace;
- (b) that any item, device, material, equipment or machinery provided for the use of workers at a workplace is properly maintained, and is properly equipped with the safety features or devices, as recommended by the manufacturer or required by the regulations;
- (c) that such information, instruction, training, supervision and facilities are provided as are necessary to ensure the occupational health and safety of the workers;
- (d) that workers and supervisors are familiar with occupational health or safety hazards at the workplace;
- (e) that workers are made familiar with the proper use of all safety features or devices, equipment and clothing required for their protection; and
- (f) that the employer's undertaking is conducted so that workers are not exposed to occupational health or safety hazards as a result of the undertaking.

(2) An employer shall

- (a) consult and cooperate with the joint occupational health and safety committee or the representative, as applicable;
- (b) cooperate with any person performing a duty or exercising a power conferred by this Act or the regulations;
- (c) provide such additional training of committee members as may be prescribed by the regulations;
- (d) comply with this Act and the regulations and ensure that workers at the workplace comply with this Act and the regulations; and

23. (1) Where 20 or more workers are regularly employed

- (a) by an employer other than a constructor or contractor; or

(b) directly by a constructor or contractor, the employer, constructor or contractor shall establish, and review at least annually, a written occupational health and safety program, in consultation with the committee or representative, if any.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1), a worker is not regularly employed directly by a constructor or contractor if the worker works with the constructor or contractor as an independent contractor.

(3) An occupational health and safety program shall include

(a) provisions for the training and supervision of workers in matters necessary to their occupational health and safety and the occupational health and safety of other persons at or near the workplace;

(b) provisions for

(i) the preparation of written work procedures for the implementation of occupational health and safety work practices, required by this Act, the regulations or by order of an officer, and

(ii) the identification of the types of work for which the procedures are required at the employer's workplace;

(c) provisions for the establishment and continued operation of a committee required by this Act, including maintenance of records of membership, rules of procedure, access to a level of management with authority to resolve occupational health and safety matters, and information required by this Act or the regulations;

(d) provisions for the selection and functions of a representative where required by this Act, including provision for access by the representative to a level of management with authority to resolve occupational health and safety matters;

(e) a hazard identification system that includes

(i) evaluation of the workplace to identify potential hazards,

(ii) procedures and schedules for regular inspections,

(iii) procedures for ensuring the reporting of hazards and the accountability of persons responsible for the correction of hazards, and

(iv) identification of the circumstances where hazards shall be reported by the employer to the committee or representative, if any, and the procedures for doing so;

(g) a system for the prompt investigation of hazardous occurrences to determine their causes and the actions needed to prevent recurrences;

(h) the maintenance of records and statistics, including reports of occupational health and safety inspections and investigations, with provision for making the reports available to persons entitled to receive them under this Act; and

(i) provisions for monitoring the implementation and effectiveness of the program.

(4) The employer shall make a copy of the program established under this section available

(a) to the committee or representative, if any; and

POLICY

24. (1) Where five or more workers are regularly employed

(a) by an employer other than a constructor or contractor; or

(b) directly by a constructor or contractor, the employer, constructor or contractor shall establish, and review at least annually, a written occupational health and safety policy, in consultation with the committee or representative, if any.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1), a worker is not regularly employed directly by a constructor or contractor if the worker works with the constructor or contractor as an independent contractor.

(3) Where this Act does not require a committee or a representative, an employer shall consult the workers regarding the proposed policy.

(4) An occupational health and safety policy shall express the commitment of the employer to occupational health and safety including

(a) the commitment of the employer to cooperate with the workers in pursuing occupational health and safety; and

(b) a statement of the responsibilities of the employer, supervisors and other workers in fulfilling the commitment. 2004,c.42,s.24.

COMMITTEE

25. (1) At a workplace where 20 or more persons are regularly employed by an employer, the employer

(a) shall establish and maintain a joint occupational health and safety committee; and

(4) Where the Director orders that a committee be established under subsection (3), the employer shall ensure that the committee is functioning in accordance with this Act within 30 days of receipt of the order.

(5) A committee shall be composed of the number of persons

(a) agreed to by the workers or their union, and the employer; or

(b) ordered by the Director.

(6) Membership of the committee shall be determined as follows:

(a) one-half of the members shall be selected by the union representing the workers or, in the absence of a union, by the workers that the members represent;

(b) one-half of the members shall be selected by the employer.

(7) The committee shall

(a) cooperate to identify hazards to occupational health and safety in the workplace and effective systems to respond to the hazards;

(b) receive, investigate and promptly deal with issues respecting occupational health and safety;

(c) participate in inspections, inquiries and investigations respecting the occupational health and safety of workers in the workplace;

(d) advise the employer on individual protective equipment, devices and safety features that are best suited to the needs of the workers, within the provisions of this Act and the regulations;

(e) advise the employer regarding a policy or program required by this Act;

(f) make recommendations to the employer, the workers and any other persons for the improvement of the occupational health and safety of persons at the workplace; and

(g) maintain records and minutes of committee meetings in a form and manner approved by the Director and provide an officer with a copy of those records and minutes at the request of the officer.

(8) Subject to subsection (9), a committee shall meet at least once each month unless the committee otherwise provides in its rules of procedure.

(9) Where the Director is not satisfied that the frequency of meetings of a committee is sufficient to enable the committee to effectively perform its functions, the Director may order the committee to hold meetings at such frequency as the Director may specify.

(10) A worker who is a member of a committee is entitled to take the necessary time off from work to attend meetings of the committee, to take training prescribed by the regulations and to carry out the worker's functions as a member of the committee.

(11) The time off from work referred to in subsection (10) shall be deemed to be work time for which the worker is entitled to the worker's usual salary and benefits, without change.

(12) A committee shall establish its own rules of procedure.

REPRESENTATIVE

26. (1) Where the number of workers employed at a workplace is five or more but no committee is required under section 25, the employer shall require the workers to select at least one representative from among the workers who do not perform managerial functions.

(2) Where the number of workers at a project is five or more but no committee is required under section 25, the constructor shall require the workers to select at least one representative from among the workers who do not perform managerial functions.

(3) Where the number of workers at a workplace is fewer than five, the Director may

(a) consult with the workers and the employer at the workplace regarding whether a representative should be selected at the workplace; and

(b) order that the workers select a representative if the Director considers that a representative is necessary to ensure that occupational health and safety issues in the workplace are monitored.

(4) A worker who is a representative is entitled to take the necessary time off from work to attend meetings of the committee, to take training prescribed by the regulations and to carry out the worker's functions as a representative.

INFORMATION RESPONSIBILITIES

27. (1) Subject to clause (2)(c), an employer who receives written recommendations from a committee or a representative, if any, under clauses 25(7)(f) and 26(6)(f) together with a request for a response to the recommendations, shall respond in writing to the committee or representative within 30 days of the request.

(2) The employer's response referred to in subsection (1) shall

(a) indicate acceptance of the recommendations;

(b) give reasons for the disagreement with recommendations that the employer does not accept; or

(c) where it is not reasonably practicable to provide a response before the expiry of the 30-day period, provide within that time a reasonable explanation for the delay indicating to the committee or a representative, if any, when the response will be coming, and provide the response as soon as it is available.

(3) If the committee or a representative, if any, considers that the explanation provided by the employer under clause (2)(c) is unacceptable or unreasonable, the committee or representative shall promptly report that fact to an officer.

(4) An employer shall notify the committee or representative of the existence of reports of occupational health and safety inspections, monitoring or tests undertaken at the workplace by, or at the request of, an officer or the employer and the employer shall make the reports available on request to the committee or the representative.

(5) An employer shall, on the request of a worker at the workplace, make available to the worker reports of occupational health or safety inspections, monitoring or tests undertaken at the workplace by, or at the request of, an officer or the employer.

(6) An officer shall provide the employer at a workplace with reports of inspections, monitoring and tests undertaken at the workplace by, or at the request of, an officer.

(7) An employer shall

(a) post the names of the current committee members or the representative and the means of contacting them; and

(b) promptly post the minutes of the most recent committee meeting and ensure that they remain posted until superseded by the minutes of the next committee meeting.

(8) An employer shall

(a) make available for examination at the workplace information and reports that an officer considers advisable to enable workers to know their rights and responsibilities under this Act and the regulations; and

(b) post, and ensure that they remain posted in the workplace,

(i) a code of practice required under this Act or the regulations,

(ii) a current telephone number for reporting occupational health or safety concerns, and

(iii) the occupational health and safety policy where the employer is required by this Act to have a policy.

(9) Where anything other than the information referred to in subsection (8) is required to be posted by this Act or the regulations, the person who has the duty to post it shall

(a) post a legible copy of it in a prominent place in the workplace; and

(b) unless this Act or the regulations specify otherwise, ensure that it remains posted for at least seven days or longer if additional time is necessary to enable workers at the workplace to inform themselves of its content.

(10) Notwithstanding subsection (9), a person who is required to post anything required to be posted under subsection (9) may, alternatively, provide that information to each worker in writing. 2004,c.42,s.27.

likely to endanger the worker's occupational health or safety or the occupational health and safety of another worker.

(2) A worker who has reason to believe that an act is likely to endanger the worker's occupational health and safety or the occupational health or safety of another worker shall immediately report the concern to the worker's supervisor, who shall promptly investigate the situation in the presence of the worker.

(3) Where a supervisor finds that the worker has reasonable grounds for believing that an act is likely to endanger the worker's occupational health or safety or the occupational health or safety of another worker, the supervisor shall take appropriate remedial action or recommend appropriate remedial action to the employer.

(4) Where a supervisor finds the worker does not have reasonable grounds for believing that an act is likely to endanger the worker's occupational health or safety or the occupational health or safety of another worker, the supervisor shall advise the worker to do that act.

(5) Where a worker has made a report under subsection (2) and the matter has not been resolved to the worker's satisfaction, the worker shall refer the matter to a committee or representative or, where there is no committee or representative, to an officer.

(6) On receipt of a referral under subsection (5), the committee, representative or officer shall promptly investigate the situation.

(7) Where a committee or representative finds that the worker has reasonable grounds for believing that an act is likely to endanger the worker's occupational health or safety or the occupational health or safety of another worker, the committee or representative shall recommend appropriate remedial action to the employer.

(8) Where a committee or representative finds that the worker does not have reasonable grounds for believing that an act is likely to endanger the worker's occupational health or safety or the occupational health or safety of another worker, the committee or representative shall advise the worker to do that act.

(9) Where a matter has been referred to a committee or representative under subsection (5), and the matter is not resolved to the satisfaction of the worker, the worker may refer the matter to an officer.

(13) Pending an investigation under this section, the worker shall remain available at the workplace during the worker's normal working hours. 2004,c.42,s.28.

29. (1) A worker's right under subsection 28(1) to refuse to do an act is protected

(a) if the worker has reported the concern to the worker's supervisor under subsection 28(2),

(i) until remedial action recommended by the supervisor under subsection 28(3) is taken by the supervisor or employer to the worker's satisfaction, or

(ii) until the supervisor has advised the worker under subsection 28(4) to do that act;

(b) if the worker has referred the matter to a committee or representative under subsection 28(5),

(i) until remedial action recommended by the committee or representative under subsection 28(7) is taken by the employer to the worker's satisfaction, or

(ii) until the committee or representative has advised the worker under subsection 28(8) to do that act; and

(c) if the worker has referred the matter to an officer under section 28(5),

(i) until remedial action ordered by the officer under subsection 28(11) is taken by the employer to the officer's satisfaction, or

(ii) until the officer has advised the worker under subsection 28(12) to do that act.

agreement.

(5) Where a worker has reasonably refused to do an act under subsection 28(1), the worker's right to refuse is protected under subsection (1) and the worker has not been reassigned to perform other acts or to perform other work under subsection (3), the employer shall pay the worker the same wages and grant the worker the same benefits as the worker would have received if he or she had not refused to do the act, if the worker's refusal is upheld.

(6) Where it is determined that the worker's refusal was for frivolous reasons, the worker shall not be entitled to wages and benefits for the applicable time period. 2004,c.42,s.29.

30. (1) No employer or union shall

- (a) take discriminatory action against a worker;
- (b) threaten to take discriminatory action against a worker;
- (c) except as provided in subsection 29(6), impose a penalty on a worker; or
- (d) intimidate or coerce a worker

because the worker has sought the enforcement of this Act, the regulations or an order made in accordance with this Act or the regulations, or has acted in compliance with this Act, the regulations or an order made in accordance with this Act or the regulations.

(2) A reassignment under subsection 29(3) is not discriminatory action under this section. 2004,c.42,s.30.

31. (1) Where a worker complains that an employer or a union has violated section 30, the worker may have the matter dealt with either by final and binding settlement by arbitration under a collective agreement, if any, or by filing a complaint in writing with the Board.

(2) On receipt of a complaint referred to in subsection (1), the Board shall, having satisfied itself that all required steps to resolve the complaint have been exhausted, refer the complaint to an arbitrator whom the Board shall appoint.

(3) An arbitrator has all the powers of an arbitrator under the Labour Act R.S.P.E.I. 1988, Cap. L-1.

(4) Where an arbitrator finds that the action of an employer or a union contravened subsection 30(1), the arbitrator shall make an order in writing that may include

- (a) an order to the employer or union to cease the discriminatory action;
- (b) an order to an employer to reinstate the worker to the worker's former employment under the same terms and conditions on which the worker was formerly employed;

(c) an order to the employer to pay to the worker any wages the worker lost because the worker was wrongfully discriminated against; or

(d) an order to the employer or union that a reprimand or other reference to the matter in the employer's or union's records on the worker's conduct be removed.

(5) The arbitrator shall provide a copy of the order and his or her reasons to the Board, to the employer or union and to the worker.

(6) Where

(a) an arbitrator has made an order respecting a party; and

(b) the party has failed to comply with the order,

a person affected by the order may, 14 days after the date of the order or after the date required in the order for compliance with it, whichever is later, file the order with the Registrar of the Supreme Court.

(7) An order filed under subsection (6) shall be entered in the records of the Supreme Court in the same way as a judgment filed under the Judgment and Execution Act R.S.P.E.I. 1988, Cap. J-2, and the order is enforceable as a judgment under that Act. 2004,c.42,s.31.

TOXIC SUBSTANCES

32. (1) An employer at a workplace shall prepare a list of all biological, chemical or physical agents used, handled, produced or otherwise present at the workplace that may be hazardous to the occupational health or safety of workers or are suspected by the workers of being hazardous and the list shall identify all such agents by their common or generic names, where they are known to the employer.

(a) the ingredients and their common or generic names;

(b) the composition and the properties;

(c) the toxicological effects;

(d) the effects of exposure, whether by contact, inhalation or ingestion;

(e) the protective measures used or to be used in respect of the agent;

(f) the emergency measures used or to be used to deal with exposure to the agent;

(g) the information on the use, transport, storage and disposal of the agent.

(3) The employer shall ensure that the list referred to in subsection (2) is kept current and the employer shall provide a copy of the current list

(a) to the committee, where one exists, or to the representative, if any; and

(b) on request, to an officer or a worker.

(4) Where the employer is unable to ascertain the ingredients or composition of a biological, chemical or physical agent listed in this section, the employer shall promptly provide the officer with the trade name, and the name and address of the manufacturer of the agent.

2004,c.42,s.32.

MEDICAL EXAMINATION

33. (1) The Director may arrange, with the consent of the worker, to have the worker medically examined by a medical practitioner to determine whether the worker is suffering from an occupational disease.

(2) No employer shall, without the consent of the worker, alter in any manner or prejudicially affect the status of a worker by reason of the results of a medical examination carried out under this section.

(3) A medical examination carried out under subsection (1) shall, where practicable, be carried out during the normal working hours of the worker, and the cost shall in all cases be paid by the employer.

(4) Where a worker is examined during the worker's normal working hours, the employer shall not make deductions from wages or other benefits for the time lost by the worker in going to, attending or returning from, a medical examination.

MISCELLANEOUS

34. (1) For the purpose of providing practical guidance for the carrying out of the requirements of any provision of this Act or the regulations, the Director may, after consultation with interested persons or associations that the Director considers advisable to consult,

(a) issue a code of practice; or

(b) amend or repeal a code of practice issued under clause (a).

LOGAN

(2) Where a code of practice is issued, amended or repealed under this section, the Director shall publish a notice in the Gazette identifying the code of practice, specifying the provisions of this Act or the regulations to which it relates and stating the effective date of the code of practice, amendment or repeal.

(3) The failure by a person to observe a provision of a code of practice is not of itself an offence.

(4) Where a person is charged with a breach of this Act or the regulations with respect to which the Director has issued a code of practice, the code of practice is admissible as evidence in a prosecution for the violation of this Act or the regulations.

(5) A copy of a code of practice or an amendment to a code of practice that is certified to be a true copy by the Director shall be received in evidence in any court without proof of the signature, appointment or authority of the Director. 2004,c.42,s.34.

35. (1) To meet the special circumstances in a particular case, the Director may, on receipt of a written application and after consultation with interested persons or associations that the Director considers advisable to consult, exempt conditionally or otherwise a person or class of persons from any provision of the regulations or a code of practice.

(2) An exemption under subsection (1) may be made only where the Director is satisfied that the standard of occupational health and safety of a worker is not materially affected by the exemption. 2004,c.42,s.35.

(2) Where an accident is reported under subsection (1), the employer shall notify the committee, where one exists, or the representative, if any.

(3) Except as otherwise directed by an officer, no person shall disturb the scene of an accident that results in a serious injury or a fatality except to the extent that it is necessary

(a) to attend to persons injured or killed;

(b) to prevent further injuries; or

(c) to protect property that is endangered as a result of the accident.

2004,c.42,s.36.
